

WINEMAKERS'S NOTE

Val de Nora is made respecting the varietal aromas and the freshness of the grapes. Its character is the result of a direct pressing of selected grapes in their optimum point of maturation. These grapes are grown on small vineyards that are taken care of all year round.

Alexia Luca de Tena, winemaker

PRODUCTION: 100.000 bottles 0,75l

GRAPE VARIETY: 100% Albariño

WINE AGEING: No ageing involved

ALCOHOL: 13% Vol.

Total acidity: 6 G/l (tartárico) · Residual sugar 2 g/L.

WINEMAKING: This wine is made respecting the varietal aromas and the freshness of the grapes. Its character is the result of a direct pressing of selected grapes in their optimum point of maturation. These grapes are grown on small vineyards that are taken care of all year round.

TASTING NOTE: Straw yellow colour with green shades. It is a very aromatic wine where the notes of citric fruits, such as tangerine, stand out, as well as varietal and ripe notes, such as apricot. It has a floral bottom note with hints of bay. On the palate, it is a very fresh, varietal and persistent wine.

VINEYARDS

AVERAGE AGE: between 10 and 20 years.

SOIL: Alluvial soils over granite rock.

CLIMATE: An Atlantic type climate predominates, and because of the considerable rainfall (1400 - 2000 mm) and humidity, the vines are trellis-trained over granite posts with the aim of increasing their sun exposure and protecting them from fungal diseases.

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE VINTAGE: The 2018 vintage presented a grape of good quality despite the severe drought and extreme temperatures suffered throughout the year, this being the earliest harvest that is remembered. The young vineyards destined to the Val de Nora, allowed the elaboration of a varietal wine, very aromatic and fruity in nose and mouth, where the aromas of Albariño and citrus notes are distinguished in the first place..

THE WINERY

Bodegas Viña Nora is located in the municipality of As Neves, within the wine-growing region of Condado do Tea and bordering Portugal. It was born in 2002, overlooking a natural terrace on the river Miño. This location allows greater extraction of all the potential of the Albariño variety and an absolute expression of the land and its landscape in the wine.

BODEGAVIÑANORA

VAL DE NORA
2018

